COLLEGE OF DENTISTRY

A Tradition of Excellence

ANNUAL REPORT 2010–2011

UF UNIVERSITY of FLORIDA

A tradition of excellence in Patient Care

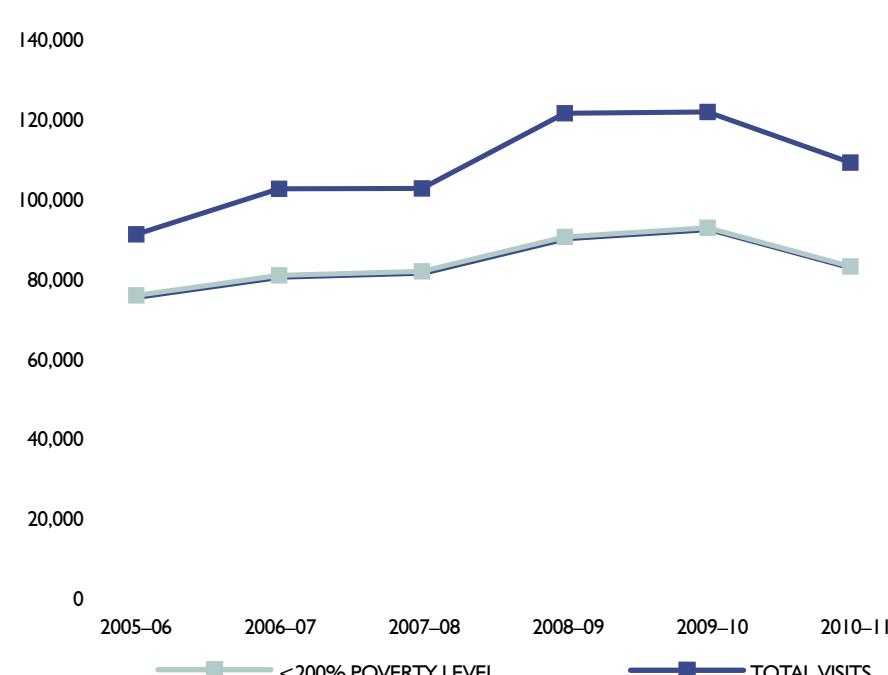

The college's patient care enterprise affords a rich and rewarding opportunity for dental students. Our students learn in real-world environments by serving patients that represent a culturally and geographically diverse population through the University of Florida Statewide Network for Oral Health.

Last year, the college completed 108,141 patient visits at our network of four UF dental centers in Florida located in Gainesville, Hialeah, Naples and St. Petersburg. The majority of these patient visits, 82,217, were for Floridians who have annual household incomes at or below 200 percent of the federal poverty level.

An additional ten dental centers are partners in our network, where D.M.D. students complete dental rotations as part of their education. Our students helped provide care during an additional 7,089 patient visits in partnership clinics located throughout the state in Apopka, Atlantic Beach, Brooksville, Naples, Gainesville, Immokalee, Jacksonville, Orlando, Tallahassee and Winter Garden. Almost all of the patients seen in these locations live in households with incomes at or below 200 percent of the federal poverty level.

Message from the Dean

Annual reports represent a snapshot in time in the history of an organization—a year in the life. But one year can't stand alone. Each year builds on those that came before, just as each year is focused as much on the future as it is on the present.

Our theme of this year's annual report, "A Tradition of Excellence," reflects the reputation of educational, service and research excellence that the University of Florida College of Dentistry has earned following 40 years of dedication, innovation and passion for oral healthcare and academic dentistry.

It is a reputation forged not by an institution, but by the people who have passed through our doors.

Forged by our faculty—who developed an innovative curriculum some 40 years ago and today attracts some of the best dental students and advanced education students from around the country and around the globe. Forged by our researchers—who developed an oral health research enterprise recognized nationally and internationally. Forged by our students—who are transformed by their educational experiences and have developed notable professional careers as dental professionals and community leaders. Forged by our alumni—who, by word and deed, demonstrated to their dental colleagues across the United States the quality of their education at UF.

I had the unique opportunity this year to reflect on the history of our college in preparation for a series of presentations and submissions to the Florida Board of Governors regarding dental education and service needs in our state. Although it was part of a conversation about expanding our D.M.D. class size, and adding additional dental schools in Florida that ended "on hold" due to funding issues and the economy, it was a valuable exercise. I was able to walk through the timeline of our college's history, from where we began to where we are today. And the inevitable next step: envisioning where we will be tomorrow, in ten years and beyond. It is clear that we must continue to invest in the future of dental education in Florida and the challenge is to decide what we, in the present, can do to ensure a continued tradition of excellence for the future.

Fortunately, I am not facing this challenge alone. I face it together with all of you who through your input and support will help to create our future built on the excellence of our past and forged with the achievements of the present.

Sincerely,

Teresa A. Dolan

Sponsored Research & Other Funding Fiscal Year 2010–2011

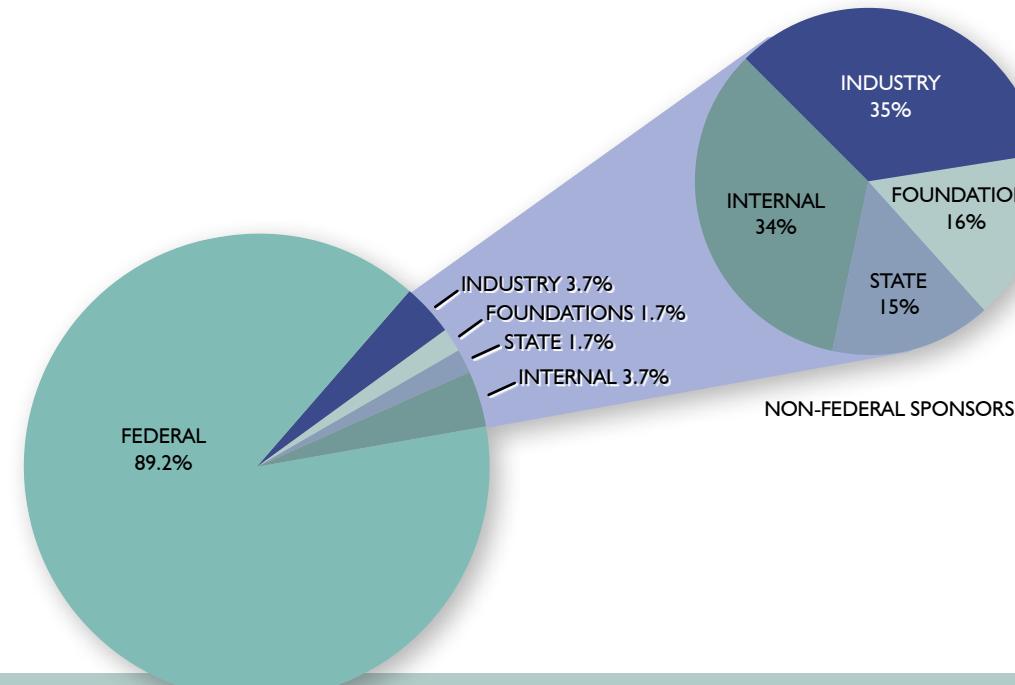

A tradition of excellence in Research

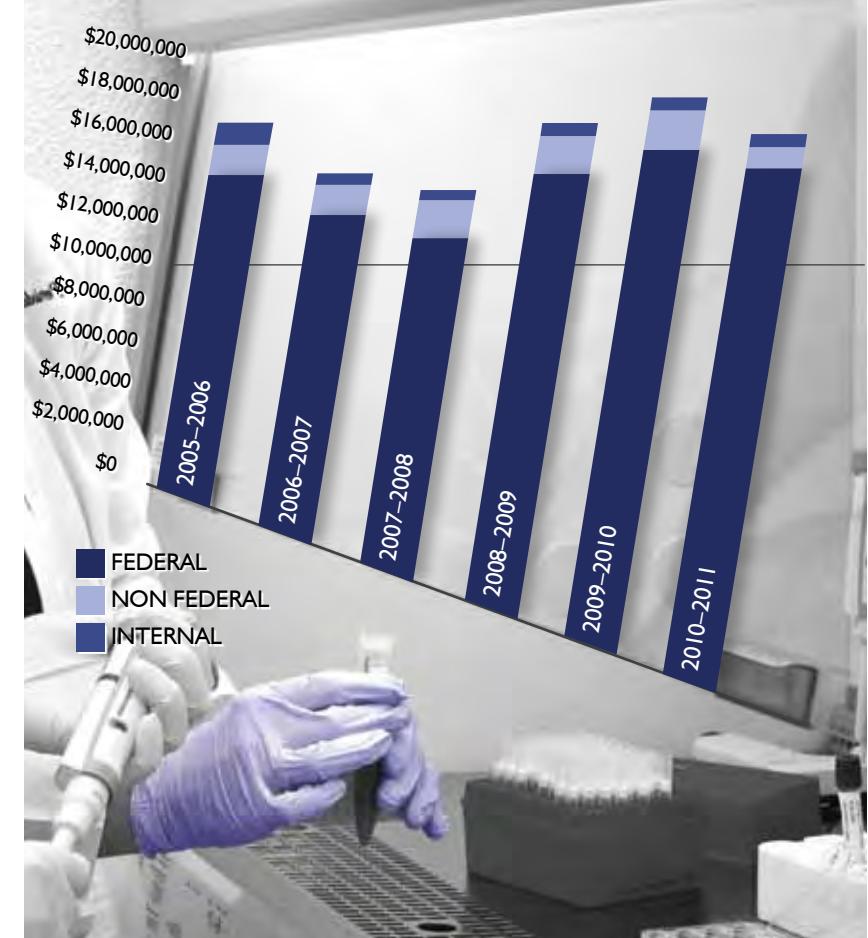

Our vibrant and growing research program is recognized nationally and internationally as a leader in oral health research, particularly in the oral biology arena. During the 2010–11 fiscal year, college researchers received more than $16 million in sponsored funding, with extensive support from the prestigious National Institute of Dental and Craniofacial Research, part of the National Institutes of Health.

Students and faculty participate in a variety of research activities related to oral health. The college recently added a D.M.D./Ph.D. program that offers integrated dental and graduate research training culminating in the awarding of both a D.M.D. and a Ph.D. in biomedical science.

Alumni & Friends Fund Clinic Renovation

Gifts will create a new home for clinical care and education in Periodontology and Prosthodontics

Is there anything more generous than giving for the benefit of those who follow in your footsteps? Alumni and friends of the college have done just that—with gifts currently totaling more than $500,000 to fund a transformative nine-month renovation of Clinic 1A into a state-of-the-art periodontology and prosthodontics graduate clinic. The renovation is scheduled for completion in July 2012, just in time for the 2012 periodontology and prosthodontics residents to begin their graduate programs.

Started almost ten years ago, these projects gained traction with leadership from the Department of Periodontology and gifts from alumni and friends. Renovation plans include a redesigned clinic located on the first floor of the dental tower close to the specialty clinics of the newly established School of Advanced Dental Sciences.

The new facilities will include surgical suites named for lead donors, including Gerald Kluft, D.D.S., and Geraldine Ferris, D.M.D. Their gifts, along with ongoing support from many other contributors and a $200,000 gift from Biomet 3I, made this project possible. The combined graduate clinics of periodontology and prosthodontics will enhance interdisciplinary learning and will also include modern ceramic and removable prosthodontic laboratories. All contributors will be recognized in the renovated facilities.

To see the blueprints and more design images, to learn how to support this project or to view the names of everyone who has made a gift, please visit our website at dental.ufl.edu/clinic-renovation-2012/.

Pediatric Graduates Honor Silva

Since 1984, the UF Pediatric Dentist Resident Program has educated more than 90 dentists to serve the special needs of pediatric patients. Alumni of the program live in 14 different states, but remain strongly connected. This year, the five graduates of the Pediatric Dental Residency Class of 2007 made a class gift totaling $30,000 to honor their graduate program director, Daniela Silva, D.D.S., M.S. and renovate the Pediatric Residents Room.
